

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,
J. PROCTOR KNOTT.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,
J. R. HINDMAN.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,
P. W. HARDIN.

FOR AUDITOR,
FAYETTE HEWITT.

FOR TREASURER,
JAMES W. TATE.

FOR SUPPL. PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
JOSEPH DESHA PICKETT.

FOR REGISTER OF THE LAND OFFICE,
J. G. CECIL.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,
W. D. COLEMAN.

We regret to hear of the loss of the Meade county News by fire.

JAS. N. BARKS is back in Henderson again, and will assume editorial charge of the News. He is a good newspaper man, and promises to improve that paper very materially.

BOB INGBERSOLL says his copies of the works of Voltaire cost him the Governorship of Illinois. While congratulating Illinois on her good luck, let us place this to Voltaire's credit.—Breakeridge News.

We are informed that Mayor Beatty, of Washington, N. J., is making and shipping an organ every ten minutes from his factory at Washington, N. J. Read his advertisement.

THE Butler county News has been enlarged to a seven column paper, and is otherwise very much improved. We wish the News abundant success. It is a live newspaper and ought to succeed.

L. T. FLIPPO, a reporter on the Louisville Commercial staff, committed suicide at the fifth Avenue Hotel last Wednesday. He formerly lived in Princeton, Ky., where, it seems from letters found on his person, he was disappointed in love affairs. Suicide was committed by shooting.

THE Republican broil at Owensboro waxeth hotter and hotter. Revenue Agent Wagner was there last week going through the form of an investigation of Collector Crambaugh, but as he refused to make any public statement, we are not prepared to tell whether it was really an investigation or a whitewash, but we guess the latter.

EX-SUBORDINATE GENERAL HAMMOND is to grapple with the Woman Question in the next number of the North American Review. He will undertake to show that woman is unfitted for equal participation with man in public affairs, not only by her smaller brain capacity, but also by the peculiarities of her nervous organization.

A TARIFF for Revenue Only means a Government tax on foreign importations laid for the sole purpose of raising the necessary amount of revenue. It, of course, affords incidental protection, but not the protection which robs the consumers, the large part of whom are American, and puts more money in the pockets of the manufacturers than goes into the coffers of the Government. The present system does this. The records will show it to any intelligent investigator.—Herald-Enterprise.

AMONG the boomerang arguments hurled at the Democrats by Mr. Bradley was the statement that the expense of maintaining Kentucky's idols had reached the sum of $77,000. The Auditor's report shows that the Democratic districts in this end of the State cost the Commonwealth only $1,300 to $2,000 each for the support of idols, while John D. White's district drew over $25,000 for the same purpose, and reported over four times the number of idols. That many of these cases were frauds, and that most of these frauds were in Republican counties was plain. These facts were presented by the Democratic Senator from this district, and a bill offered to remedy these evils, which was promptly passed by the last General Assembly. So that a Democratic administration has again had to protect the people against frauds in a Republican region, already notorious for witness claim cunning and fox-sculp fame.—Messenger.

"THE Tariff" is the only question in American politics to-day. The time is at hand—and the American people are ready to welcome it all over the land—when this great issue is to wipe out the inefficient, meaningless distinctions of existing political parties, which, in all sections, have mystified and separated neighbors and brothers, whose interests are identical and whose opinions ought to be the same, and bring before the people the same grand, living issue of the day; the issue which will solidify the great world of laborers and consumers against the giant monopoly who is crushing out their life blood; the issue which will make the barren south again blossom as the rose; which will develop and civilize the great west and open to the world the secret riches of that boundless region to the far north-west, and which will knock the shackles from the laboring classes of the north by a revolution that will renovate their whole system and free them from the power of despotic manufacturers, who now control their lives and destinies. This issue must be met fairly and squarely. The question can no longer be dodged. The Democratic platform for 1884 should be simply and purely "A Tariff for Revenue Only." With that as the slogan, victory is ours. Without it, defeat will again come and this time it will be the defeat of disorganization and death.—Herald-Enterprise.

WASHBURN & Co., Broadway, New York, are advertising frauds of the meanest sort; so says the Farmer's Home Journal. Pass them around, boys.

THE Trade Dollar and the negro on the State Ticket are in about the same predicament. The Government won't own the dollar, nor the Republican party the negro.—Echo.

MR. C. P. HUNTINGTON proposes to build his line direct from Elizabethtown to Lexington and leave Louisville off, as Louisville parties have retarded the progress of his connection through that city by injunctions and otherwise. Louisville will find out that she made a mistake in building the Cecilian branch. That branch should have been built down this way, connecting about Green River.

OLD CERRO GORDO, the boss hand-shaker of Kentucky, announces his reelection to the Senate. He says he has seen "the boys" and is headed for the races. Surely, we are not to be again thus afflicted! In the name of all patience, the far-e has gone on long enough. The Mexican war is over. The "old soldier" should be pensioned and retired.—Herald-Enterprise.

Wants Him Arrested.

If a certain alleged crook makes a friendly call at Capt. Bligh's office he will meet with a surprise. Mr. L. C. Duke, of Rockport, Ky., writes that Frank Williams, an employee of his lively stable, has broken open his money drawer, and with $15 and his silver watch has fled to the metropolitan security of this city. He adds that if Mr. Williams should happen to drop in the detective's office he would like to have him arrested.—Courier-Journal.

New Postage Rates.

On and after October 1st, 1883, letter postage will be uniform at two cents for letters to any part of the United States. On and after July 1, 1883, money orders for $5 and under may be obtained for three cents. The order will be payable to bearer, and will be good for three months from date of issue, after that time the holder can get par value only by applying to the department at Washington. On the same date, the date of money orders on all sums will be changed, and not exceeding $10 payable for eight cents, and from that to $100, the rate increasing up to 47 cents.

Newspaper Duns.

Here is the way a brother journalist puts it: "We presume that some people think that newspaper men are persistent duns. Let a farmer put himself in a similar position and see if he would not do the same. Suppose that he raises one thousand bushels of wheat, and his neighbor should come and buy a bushel and the price was only two dollars or less, and the neighbor says: 'I will pay you the amount in a few days.' As the farmer does not want to be small about the matter, he says all right.

"Another comes in the same way, and still another, until the whole of the one thousand bushels are trusted out to one thousand different persons, and no one of the purchasers concerns himself about it, for it is a small amount they owe the farmer, and of course that would not help him any.

"He does not realize that the farmer has frittered away his large crop of wheat, and that its value is due in a thousand little dribbles, and that he is seriously embarrassed in his business because his debtors treat it as a little matter. But if all would pay him promptly, which they could do as well as not, it would be a large amount to the farmer, and enable him to carry on his business without difficulty."

The above plain comparison is too true of the difficulties with which the newspaper man has to contend.

IMPORTANT TO TOBACCO GROWERS.

Instructions from the Commissioner.

OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, June 26th, 1883.
Hon. John F. House, Clarksville, Tenn.
SIR—I am in receipt of your letter of the 21st inst.

With regard to the question which you proposed, as to whether a farmer selling leaf tobacco at retail directly to consumers will be required to keep an account of his sales, I have to say that the law does not require farmers to keep government books as in the case of leaf dealers. Farmers must, however, keep an account of their sales in some form; otherwise it would be impossible for the Government to determine, in any given case, when the limit prescribed by law of sales which can be made by them without payment of special tax as retail dealers in leaf tobacco is reached.

Section 3361 U. S. revised statute, makes it the duty of every farmer or planter producing or selling leaf tobacco, on demand of any internal revenue officer or authorized agent of the Treasury Department, to furnish said officer or agent with a true and complete statement, verified by oath, of all his sales of leaf tobacco, the number of hogheads, cases, or pounds, with name and residence in each instance of the person to whom sold and the place to which it is shipped.

The sales to consumers, which, in amount, are not to exceed $100 annually, are to be made within each special tax year from May 1st to April 30th inclusive.

(Signed,) WALTER EVANS, Commissioner.

Sale of Leaf Tobacco.

Commissioner Evans, of the internal revenue service gives the following decisions regarding the clause in the late tariff bill granting planters the privilege of selling $100 worth of tobacco from their farms at retail, without a license as a retail dealer:

The tobacco must be of the growth and raising of the farmer or producer who makes the sale.

The sales must be of leaf tobacco, in the form and condition of leaf as it is ordinarily dried and cured for the market. If the tobacco is "twisted by hand, or reduced into a condition to be consumed, or in any manner, other than the ordinary mode of drying and curing, prepared for sale or consumption, even if prepared without the use of any machine or instrument, and without being pressed or sweetened," it is liable to a tax of eight cents a pound. If the farmer or producer sells ordinary leaf at retail directly to consumers, as heretofore stated, to an amount exceeding $100 annually, he becomes liable to pay a special tax as a retail dealer in leaf tobacco. He also becomes liable if he violates any of the conditions of the said provision, as herein stated.

Attention Called to an Important Law.

CHAPTER 1486.
An act to provide for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within the State at the general election for Representatives to be held in August, 1883.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: That the County Court of each county shall at its term next before the general election to be held in August, 1883, appoint two disinterested citizens for each election precinct within the county, who shall be styled "tellers," and whose duty it shall be to make and return, in like manner with the returns of elections for Governor, except that the return may be made by said tellers within ten days after the election, a statement of all the citizens entitled to vote within their respective precincts for Representatives at said election.

Provided, That the tellers at each precinct, appointed by the County Court under the provisions of this act, shall be selected from and belong to different political parties, provided that there be two or more political parties in each precinct from which to appoint.

That for the purpose of ascertaining the number of persons entitled to vote, the said tellers shall take from the poll-books of said election, within six days thereafter, the names of such citizens as lawfully voted for Representatives thereat, and shall, on the next return after making such list, add to it the names of all other citizens entitled to vote within their respective precincts, which additional names may be ascertained from the personal knowledge of said tellers.

That the returns of said tellers shall be examined and the results declared in like manner with the returns of elections for Governor.

That if for any cause any teller fails to serve, the vacancy shall be filled in like manner with the vacancies in the office of judge of the election.

That the tellers shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties.

That the tellers shall receive for their compensation two dollars each, to be paid in like manner with judges of the election.

That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed.

That the mode herein before provided for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within the State, shall be the only mode of ascertaining such number, for the purpose of ascertaining whether a majority of such citizens vote at said election for calling a Constitutional Convention.

Approved April 24th, 1882.

The Duty of Kentucky Papers.

It is reported that Gen. Williams has been over the State making personal appeals to the candidates for the Legislature, and now he declares his reelection assured. Such a course would not be excusable in an aspirant for so high a position were he qualified to fill it; but of Gen. Williams' best friends will maintain that he ever approaches the standard of qualification. He lacks information. He lacks dignity on the floor of the Senate. His speeches are the most wretched fustian, full of coarseness and bad grammar. There are men in the State who are qualified for the position and some of them should be selected to succeed him. Carlisle is a student and a statesman, Williams is neither; Lindzey is an exceedingly able man, a hard worker, a strong and invigorating speaker—a man with a broad mind and intelligent conception of the duties and dignity of a seat in the Senate. Mr. Blackburn is a brilliant speaker, always active and alert, and would have influence in the Senate and out of it.

There are others who might be named in connection with the position as in every way worthy to fill it. To ignore the merits of all of them and return Gen. Williams would be inexcusable folly. The papers of the State should express themselves freely on the subject. The matter is important and words should not be misused. There could be no possible danger were we assured the Legislature would reflect the wishes and intelligence of the Democracy of Kentucky. But we are not assured of that unless the newspapers give proper expression to those wishes in advance letting the members of the Legislature know they are sent to Frankfort to represent the interests of their constituents, not to sacrifice those interests to indulge a personal appearance or gratify a personal appeal. The Covington Commonwealth, the Owensboro Messenger, the Hopkinsville Kentucky, the New Knoxville News, and several other papers have spoken on the subject in no doubtful language. If the press throughout the State would likewise the next Senator from Kentucky would be something more than a splutter of bad English and an object of ridicule.—Louisville Post.

Death of William Whittinghill.

At his home on the Hartford and Hardinsburg road, near the Breckenridge county line, at 11 o'clock, A. M., Saturday, July 20th, 1883, William Whittinghill, in the 74th year of his age. Mr. Whittinghill was born on Nice Reading for Negroes.

Does the colored citizen for whose vote Col. T. Z. Morrow is now pleading know that had his wishes prevailed the right of suffrage? It is an indisputable fact, as the Journal of the Senate of 1865 and '66, page 221, will convince any who choose to examine. It shows that on 22d of January, 1866 Col. Morrow was moved to present a string of resolutions which was referred to the committee on Federal Relations, of which the following is one:

Resolved, That the Congress of the United States has no power, under the second section of the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to pass any law granting the right of suffrage in the States to persons of African descent, and that we are opposed to granting suffrage to persons of that class by the State.—Intervenor Journal.

Shooting at Jericho, Logan County.

One Man Killed and Four Wounded.

At a big brand name near Jericho, about 14 miles north of here, on last Wednesday—the glorious Fourth—a shooting affray occurred which resulted in the death of one, and the fatal wounding of the other participant, and also the wounding of two bystanders. It seems to have been a most uncalculated affair. As nearly as we could learn the facts are these:

Charles Schenckel, a farmer, had a lone handstand. Just after dinner James Hankins, one of the dancers, walked up to the stand and called for some lemonade. Charles told him he was out of lemonade, but was making some and could supply him in a few minutes. Hankins then offered to buy some water and Charles told him he would not sell the water, but that if he would reach over and help himself he was welcome to as much as he wanted. Hankins then got mad, apparently because Charles would not stop his lemonade making to hand him the water, and told Charles that he might take his water and his lemonade too and go to h—l with them. At this Charles stooped under the railing and started out towards Hankins, who is a small delicate fellow, while Charles was stout and heavy. As Charles arose on the outside of the railing, Hankins struck him in the face with his fist. Charles straightened up and promptly knocked the little man down. When Hankins rose—as a negro witness relates—he "cried a shoutful." Charles commenced back-awards among the crowd and Hankins followed, shooting directly at him until he emptied his .33 calibre "Smith & Wesson." Three shots took effect; one in the bowels, one in the hip and one in the hand. Charles never fell during the whole engagement and as he backed off tried to draw his pistol from his pocket. After several attempts he wrenched it out and began firing at Hankins. The first shot missed, but the second struck Hankins in the side and he immediately fell and rolled over on the ground. Charles ran towards him and fired once more as he ran past Hankins, who was still rolling in the dust. The third shot missed. Charles's pistol was a "British Bulldog," of large caliber. Deputy Sheriff P. M. Warden came up just as the third shot was fired, and, assisted by some others, caught and disarmed Charles, who started to walk, but after going a short distance he began to fall and had to be carried from the grounds. He was taken to Wm. Penrod's near by where he died Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock. His body was brought to town and delivered to the Coroner, who held an inquest and telegraphed to his brother at Campbellsville, Ky., from which place Charles came several months ago to work on the O. & N. R. R. No response to the dispatch was received and Coroner Dunn buried the body at the cemetery farm.

Hankins is a young fellow who lives with his father in Muhlenberg county. He was taken to the house of Mr. Geo. Richards, near Jericho, where he now lies in a critical condition. He is badly shot and the doctors say he has no chance to recover, the wound in the side having entered the cavity.

During the melee a man named Pogue was shot in the knee or just above it, and one named Pogue received a ball in the back of the neck. They were bystanders and had no interest in the fight. Pogue seems to have been worse scared than hurt, it being said that he jumped on a mule immediately and galloped off at break-neck speed, the supposition being that he is still going. It is the greatest wonder that every shot did not strike somebody, as the crowd was immense and thick around the lemonade stand.—Herald-Enterprise.

Obituary.

Margaret Byers, widow of Daniel Byers, deceased, departed this life June 20th, 1883, aged 78 years and one day. She was a member of the M. E. church, had lived in the church for about 62 years. She leaves a large connection and many acquaintances in Grayson and Ohio counties to mourn her loss. She was the mother of Dr. A. R. Byers of Grayson county, and J. D. Byers Esq., of Ohio county. She was a sister of Capt. Joseph Bratner, of Butler county. Her husband Daniel Byers had been dead ten years the 1st of February last. She died at her daughters, the widow Sapps in Ohio county. The doctor and her other sons were at her bedside for several days during her illness, and all of them could do all that was in their power to alleviate her suffering.

Death of William Whittinghill.

At his home on the Hartford and Hardinsburg road, near the Breckenridge county line, at 11 o'clock, A. M., Saturday, July 20th, 1883, William Whittinghill, in the 74th year of his age. Mr. Whittinghill was born on what is now known as the old Whittinghill farm, two and one half miles east of Fordsville, January 28th, 1807. His father, John Whittinghill, settled on this farm October 15th, 1807. He established a camp till he could build a log cabin for a dwelling and for want of clear land to raise a crop of corn on he cut some fields near Barrett's Ferry, a distance of seven or eight miles from his camp. This Christian gentleman died on this farm September 27th, 1846, in the 70th year of his age. Wm. Whittinghill was married three times. His first and second wives were sisters, and were daughters of Samuel and Eliza Wilson. His third wife was the widow Fowler, widow of Benjamin F. Fowler. She was originally Miss Mary Ann Robertson. She was married to Mr. Whittinghill January 28th, 1854. With the exception of four years residence in Illinois, Mr. Whittinghill has lived in Ohio county. For the last twenty-seven years he has been a member of the Baptist church. He leaves his wife now in the 68th year of her age, also two sons and two daughters. The daughters are by his second wife and are Mrs. Elizabeth Gabbert, wife of Albert Gabbert, living near Philpot, Davison county, and Mrs. Eliza Truman, wife of Edward W. Truman, living near Fordsville. The two sons are William L., living near his father's home, and Thomas L., now living at the late residence of his father. On the morning of the 8th, Sunday, the funeral sermon was preached at his home by Rev. Calvin Voyles, from the text, "If a man die, shall he live again." All the days of unappointed time I wait till my change comes." Job: XIV Chapter, 14th Verse. After service his remains were laid in the family row in the graveyard on the farm of his brother, Peter T. Whittinghill.

Editor Herald:

It is an old saying that the way of the transgressor is hard, to suit the case now on hand it should read the way of the correspondent is hard. Scarcely is he out of one difficulty till he is in another. Some may stand in open mouth wonder and astonishment at this declaration, but it is true nevertheless.

One gentleman took offense at what he thought to be an improper use of his name, while others whose names I used accepted it as I intended it should be, as a joke. The gentleman, no doubt, interpreted it as a fling at him. I regret that he has accepted it in that way, or perhaps he was assisted to that determination by the suggestions or remarks of some unscrupulous persons to further their own selfish ends. To all such words would be worse than throw away. I will close my letter by saying, I hope the storm which is threatening will soon clear away and the sun of friendship will shine out brighter than ever. Pore.

An Open Letter from Mr. Axton.

OWENSBORO, July 7, 1883.
MAJ. W. E. KILGORE—Dear Sir: For the information of those concerned, I take pleasure in publishing the following letter which explains itself. As to the letters I wrote to the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury and the President of the United States in which I reported the infamous proposition of Collector Crambaugh, I will say that no being on this earth is responsible for those letters or what they contained save myself.

The spirit of the Revenue laws, as well as civil service reform, required me to write them. My conscience absolutely demanded it of me and I did it, and for so doing I am left off duty which means no more work for me while this collector remains in office. I have no malice, revenge or spite to gratify in the matter, and now have no apologies to offer any one for what I did. Crambaugh charges you for being instrumental in getting up those letters, which, as he says, "the two storekeepers signed."

Whether if the Hopkinsville creature thinks the four-storekeepers referred to incompetent to dictate their own letters? We have heard it charged that Crambaugh thought some men from other counties incompetent to dictate just the kind of letter that he desired to see in print concerning the late candidate for Secretary of the Navy, and very generously assisted them, by writing the whole communication himself, so they would have no trouble only to forward the document to the editors.

This was of course very kind and thoughtful in him, but the average Ohio county man would scorn to do this as well as "sign" a document and claim the authorship when another had gotten it up. I will further say that so far as you, or any one else controlling me in reporting the Crambaugh connection, hereby business is concerned, it is a lie made of whole cloth. It is a bold-faced attempt to do the purpose of re-creating my vengeance on you—a one-legged ex-Federal soldier.

Very respectfully,
F. H. AXTON,
U. S. Storekeeper.

Central Grove Gravel.

July 12th, 1883.

Editor Herald:

The health of the Grove is exceeding good at present, and prospects are flattering for living another year, as crops are good and blackberries plentiful.

Crops of all kinds look extremely well considering the unfavorable season. Corn is growing rapidly, and never looked better than it does at present. Tobacco is also looking well, though not more than half a crop has been set in this vicinity.

Our enterprising neighbors at the Taylor Mines are making preparation for a grand Barbecue at their place on Saturday next, the proceeds of which are to be used in the building of a new school house. The dinner will be made up of the contributions of hams, chickens, bread loaves, cakes, etc., of the citizens, and the charge will be moderate. Educational lectures will be delivered by Messrs. Walker and Hurlburt, and political speeches by the candidates who will be there on that day.

We suggest that the citizens of the surrounding country of Hartford would encourage a good enterprise by attending, and also enjoy the somewhat picturesque scenery of the surrounding hills and coal mines. The great works of England, but a few years back, were read of by us all with wonder and curiosity, but now we have them in our midst, and they are fast becoming important industries to our thrift and prosperity. We will further say that those who may attend will meet with a good old English welcome from the Messrs. Smiths, Barresses, Thorps, and many others whose names you will also be sure to learn soon. Our own John Bracken and Lute Barnard will also be there to welcome their friends. No intoxicating liquors will be allowed on the grounds.

Beaver Dam is improving. We are to have a new flour mill. John P. Berger, of this place, has an arrangement with the Bradford Mill Company of Cincinnati for the building of same. The citizens of the town and community have subscribed $1,000 to the mill. There is perhaps no better place for a mill in the county, nor at the C. & O. S. W. Railroad. The depot building at this place is now being enlarged, carpenters are already at work. This is a much-needed improvement, as the vast amount of freight shipped to and from this place was entirely too much for the capacity of the present building. The goods and groceries for the trade of Hartford, Centertown, Sulphur Springs, Hines' Mill and sometimes for Cromwell are put off at this place.

Mr. Evans Cornelius was struck and severely stunned by lightning on Saturday evening last. At present he is up and will probably receive no permanent damage.

Livermore Pops.

July 14, 1883.

Editor Herald:

I am an old saying that the way of the transgressor is hard, to suit the case now on hand it should read the way of the correspondent is hard. Scarcely is he out of one difficulty till he is in another. Some may stand in open mouth wonder and astonishment at this declaration, but it is true nevertheless.

One gentleman took offense at what he thought to be an improper use of his name, while others whose names I used accepted it as I intended it should be, as a joke. The gentleman, no doubt, interpreted it as a fling at him. I regret that he has accepted it in that way, or perhaps he was assisted to that determination by the suggestions or remarks of some unscrupulous persons to further their own selfish ends. To all such words would be worse than throw away. I will close my letter by saying, I hope the storm which is threatening will soon clear away and the sun of friendship will shine out brighter than ever. Pore.

An Open Letter from Mr. Axton.

OWENSBORO, July 7, 1883.
MAJ. W. E. KILGORE—Dear Sir: For the information of those concerned, I take pleasure in publishing the following letter which explains itself. As to the letters I wrote to the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury and the President of the United States in which I reported the infamous proposition of Collector Crambaugh, I will say that no being on this earth is responsible for those letters or what they contained save myself.

The spirit of the Revenue laws, as well as civil service reform, required me to write them. My conscience absolutely demanded it of me and I did it, and for so doing I am left off duty which means no more work for me while this collector remains in office. I have no malice, revenge or spite to gratify in the matter, and now have no apologies to offer any one for what I did. Crambaugh charges you for being instrumental in getting up those letters, which, as he says, "the two storekeepers signed."

Whether if the Hopkinsville creature thinks the four-storekeepers referred to incompetent to dictate their own letters? We have heard it charged that Crambaugh thought some men from other counties incompetent to dictate just the kind of letter that he desired to see in print concerning the late candidate for Secretary of the Navy, and very generously assisted them, by writing the whole communication himself, so they would have no trouble only to forward the document to the editors.

This was of course very kind and thoughtful in him, but the average Ohio county man would scorn to do this as well as "sign" a document and claim the authorship when another had gotten it up. I will further say that so far as you, or any one else controlling me in reporting the Crambaugh connection, hereby business is concerned, it is a lie made of whole cloth. It is a bold-faced attempt to do the purpose of re-creating my vengeance on you—a one-legged ex-Federal soldier.

Very respectfully,
F. H. AXTON,
U. S. Storekeeper.

Central Grove Gravel.

July 12th, 1883.

Editor Herald:

The health of the Grove is exceeding good at present, and prospects are flattering for living another year, as crops are good and blackberries plentiful.

Crops of all kinds look extremely well considering the unfavorable season. Corn is growing rapidly, and never looked better than it does at present. Tobacco is also looking well, though not more than half a crop has been set in this vicinity.

Our enterprising neighbors at the Taylor Mines are making preparation for a grand Barbecue at their place on Saturday next, the proceeds of which are to be used in the building of a new school house. The dinner will be made up of the contributions of hams, chickens, bread loaves, cakes, etc., of the citizens, and the charge will be moderate. Educational lectures will be delivered by Messrs. Walker and Hurlburt, and political speeches by the candidates who will be there on that day.

We suggest that the citizens of the surrounding country of Hartford would encourage a good enterprise by attending, and also enjoy the somewhat picturesque scenery of the surrounding hills and coal mines. The great works of England, but a few years back, were read of by us all with wonder and curiosity, but now we have them in our midst, and they are fast becoming important industries to our thrift and prosperity. We will further say that those who may attend will meet with a good old English welcome from the Messrs. Smiths, Barresses, Thorps, and many others whose names you will also be sure to learn soon. Our own John Bracken and Lute Barnard will also be there to welcome their friends. No intoxicating liquors will be allowed on the grounds.

Beaver Dam is improving. We are to have a new flour mill. John P. Berger, of this place, has an arrangement with the Bradford Mill Company of Cincinnati for the building of same. The citizens of the town and community have subscribed $1,000 to the mill. There is perhaps no better place for a mill in the county, nor at the C. & O. S. W. Railroad. The depot building at this place is now being enlarged, carpenters are already at work. This is a much-needed improvement, as the vast amount of freight shipped to and from this place was entirely too much for the

The wheat harvest is over, and the hum of the thrasher is being heard in the land. The wheat crops much better than was expected, while the oat crop is not so good.

The exhibition which was given at the Grove on Saturday night, June 30, proved to be a success in every respect. The net proceeds raised was about $30, which will go for the improvement of the school house. Good order prevailed during the entire evening.

The young people of the vicinity will give another entertainment at the Grove in the near future, which will be as good as the one given on the 30th ult., if not better.

I learn that the Trustees of the Grove district, No. 74, have employed Mr. A. Lee Bennett to teach the public school the ensuing winter. I do not think that the trustees could have made a better selection, as Mr. Bennett is an energetic young man, and one well worthy of the confidence of the community.

We have an interesting Sabbath school at the Grove, with S. J. Iglehart, Esq., as superintendent.

The picnic at McHenry on the 4th was one of the best ever given at that place. The games of base ball played between the McHenry and Slaty Creek clubs was quite interesting. The scores were as follows: McHenry, 68; Slaty Creek, 26. Ah, boys, you can't play pins, can you "Daisy"? But come again, boys, and we will give you a better show next time, if we have to play our little fly club against you.

D. A. Miller and family are talking of going to Florida this fall. I much regret to hear of this move, for Mr.

Miller's place in this community will be hard to fill. Also our young friend, W. B. Miller, will accompany them. It will be with a feeling of deep regret for the young people of this community to give Mr. Miller up, for he is one of the most energetic, sociable and prosperous young men that was ever reared in this neighborhood. May success attend you in every undertaking through life, is the wish of a friend.

Those attending the picnic at the Sulphur Springs on the 4th, were Misses Rula Tichenor, Bertha Miller, Lola Miller, Almy Tichenor, O. B. Bicket and their sister. All seemed to enjoy the trip exceedingly well.

Let us hear from the McHenry correspondent often.

Iglehart & Hunter are threshing wheat in a rush at present. Farmers who have large crops of grain to thresh could not do better than to get them to do their work, as their machine is new and does good threshing.

One of my most pleasant visits since my return home, was a short visit to my old friends Alvin and Lee Rowe, of Centertown. They are jolly boys, and know how to make any one enjoy themselves. I think I will come again Alvin, if you will let me stay in the store with you.

The news has just reached me that Elmore Rowe, a little boy of G. W. Rowe's, is not expected to live.

I noticed in the Centertown letter last week that the correspondent, in giving an account of the Central Grove exhibition, gave Stoney Point the credit of it instead of Central Grove. I know this was not done intentionally.

Let.

KENTUCKY MILITARY INSTITUTE
At Frankfort, Ky., Franklin Co., Ky., 15 miles from Frankfort. Has the most complete and best

OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.

WILL COOPER, Cincinnati.
EDGAR RILEY, Livermore.
DAVID ROGERS, Buford.
JNO. T. SMITH, Jr., Fordville.
S. P. BENNETT, Centerville.
DR. G. R. SANDERS, Centerville.
WILLIE MAY, Haynesville.
J. R. HOCKER, Sutton.
T. C. FLOYD, Whitesville.
V. B. RAINE, Rosine.
HON. R. P. HOCKER, Beaver Dam.
W. A. GIBSON, Caneyville.
MRS. NANNIE W. JONES, Horton.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce that RICHARD H. STEVENS, of Beaver Dam voting precinct is a candidate to represent Ohio county in the next Legislature of Kentucky. He was unanimously nominated and requested to make the race by the Greenback convention held in Hartford April 24, 1883, and having accepted the same he is now before the people and asks a due consideration of his claims.

We are authorized to announce that W. P. RENDLER, of the Centerville District, is the Republican candidate to represent Ohio county in the next Legislature of Kentucky. Election, Monday, August 6th, 1883.

PERSONALS.

Persons visiting in town not seeing personal mention of themselves must remember the one they are stopping with did not feel interested enough in them to report at this office.

Persons in town having visitors or any other item they would like in this column would confer a favor if they would inform this office. The town is not very large, but one hand can't get all over it every day and run a news paper.

Miss Lizzie Walker, returned from Dawson last Sunday.

Mrs. Sallie Hardwick, returned from Madisonville last Sunday.

Mrs. John Poyner, of Evansville, is visiting her parents, at Beaver Dam.

Mrs. Carrie Fields is visiting Mr. Chas. Fields' family at Buford.

Hon. Sam E. Hill made a short visit home last week.

Miss Lucy Gray, of Shelbyville, is visiting Miss Madie Pendleton.

Misses Maggie and Jessie Nail, of Louisville, are visiting Miss Blanche Nail.

W. H. Griffin, paid Elizabethtown a short visit last week, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Rowe, wife of the proprietor of the Hartford House, for several years and her daughter Miss Lela, gave us the pleasure of a short visit last week.

Mrs. Wm. G. Duncan, and sister Miss Nettie of McHenry, have returned from their tour through the East. They report a pleasant trip and picturesque scenery.

Mr. Bir, post master at Beaver Dam, accompanied by Miss Tonia Poyner, made us a little visit last Sunday. Come again friends we are always glad to see you.

Col. W. H. Yost, of Greenville, was in town last Saturday on legal business. We see from the Herald-Enterprise that he and Judge John C. Thompson, have formed a partnership with Judge W. W. Frazer of Russellville.

I. P. Barnard, the great old merchant of the Green River country, was in town Tuesday, and made arrangements with our citizens for winter coal. While in town Mr. Barnard paid his respects to the Suburban by calling and subscribing.—Suburban.

Mr. George McManama, a former clerk of Anderson's Bazaar, but now Stephensport Ky., was in town several days the past week, visiting Mr. Anderson's family and friends. George is one of the cleverest young men we ever knew and his friends are always glad to see him.

Col. W. P. Maxwell returned last Saturday from a visit to Shelby county and a business trip to Louisville. While in the city he contracted for the publication of his forthcoming book, "Four Days in the Herald Office, or What I Know About Newspapers." This book will afford a rich field for agents and territory is being applied for quite rapidly.

Dr. John E. Pendleton, of Hartford, came up Tuesday evening to attend Miss Nannie Meredith, who has been very ill for some time. He returned home the following morning. Dr. Pendleton performed a surgical operation upon Rev. J. T. Rushing's boy while here, assisted by Drs. Heston & Hardin. The doctor is a thorough physician, having an extended reputation, and the sufferer from disease can feel himself in skilled and learned hands when under the care of such a physician.—Suburban.

—Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

—Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, Black or Brown, fifty cents.

—Young men, what say you to having a moonlight picnic one of these lovely nights?

—Girls, what would you give to know who is the next one to be married? We know and will tell you soon.

—Mrs. Lucy Klein will please accept our most grateful thanks for a variety of vegetable sent us the other day. Such treats are appreciated by us.

—The voters of Breckenridge county are called upon to vote at the ensuing August election on a proposition to work their roads by taxation, the tax not to exceed $2.00 per capita and 10 cents ad valorem, and to be expended through a superintendent.

—Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.

—There are now ten inmates in the county Poor House.

—Anderson's Bazaar did a booming business on Monday.

—There will be a nice lot of hoop-skirts on hand this week.

—New haws and handsome gingham just received at Anderson's Bazaar.

—W. H. Williams & Son have a nice Soda Fountain for sale. Call at once and secure a bargain.

—Bargains in India linens, Oriental linens and all the latest white goods at Anderson's Bazaar.

—An infant son of R. H. Bennett's, near Bels, died last Saturday morning of brain fever.

—Mr. G. C. Westerfield has presented us a beautiful sign "Herald Office" as a specimen of his workmanship which we appreciate very highly.

—The barbeque at Hartford, July 28, promises to be the biggest thing out. The managers will spare neither labor or money to make it a day of real pleasure to those attending.

—We are glad to announce that our old friend, Henry Small has concluded to stay in Hartford. There will be the finest stock of goods on hand this fall ever seen before.

—Jeff Smith, one of the oldest men in the county, died at the county house last Monday morning. His remains were interred at Bell's Run Church yesterday. He was about eighty years old.

—P. W. Brown and J. T. Barnes will give the people of the county who attend a grand barbeque at Centerville, August 4th, 1883. They will have an excellent dinner and all kinds of refreshments, and will have dancing, swinging, music, shooting gallery, pig-con and glass ball shooting, a game of base ball and public speaking in the way of entertainment and amusement.

—James W. Daniel, the pioneer barbeque man, of Ohio county, will give his one thousand, one hundred and eleventh barbeque, near Bald Knob, in vicinity of Cromwell, on Saturday, August 4th, 1883. J. M. Leach will aid him in the matter and George C. Wedding, the eloquent young lawyer, of Hartford, will entertain the audience with a public speech.

—When in the course of human events, you wish to attend a nice barbeque, where every thing will be in apple pie order, just save yourself for Saturday, July 28th, and go to the barbeque at Hartford. The entertainments and refreshments will exceed any thing of the season. We'll all be there.

—The reason the Red Front has no advertising in this week's issue is because they were all too busy to write anything. We called on them and the proprietors and all the clerks were so busy waiting on customers that we could not get a word from them. No wonder they are kept so busy, for they have the most complete assortment of groceries and country produce of all kinds ever kept in Ohio county.

—We are enabled this week to give our readers the particulars of the killing of Wm. Edson, of color, which occurred at Hartford, on Monday, July 9th. Frank Dewitt and Beck Herrod had a difficulty some time previously. Herrod tried to get the boss of the Standard State Company to dismiss Dewitt, who was a slave cutter, and talked about him and probably made some threats, all of which Dewitt was apprised of. On the Friday night previous to the shooting, Dewitt with a few others, went to Herrod's room to mob him. Herrod slipped out the back way and went to R. B. Thompson's and remained till the next morning, when he came to Hartford and got out a peace warrant for Dewitt. Dewitt heard of it and kept out of the way of officers, and on Sunday night left. The next day Herrod was around abusing Bill Edson and a negro man named Lawrence, and accused them of being members of the party who went to mob him and having carried news to Dewitt. Late in the evening Edson got up and started toward Herrod, saying to Herrod he had to stop abusing him or fight like a man. Herrod drew a pistol and fired just as Edson got to him, killing him instantly. Herrod escaped.

—Some unprincipled dealers, because they could see a few cents more profit, have been guilty of offering worthless substitutes for the only original and genuine Sulphur Soap—Glenn's by name. Therefore, the public should guard against this deception, and always ask for Glenn's Sulphur Soap, by its full name, and take no other. Read the following evidence from a highly respectable source: C. N. CRITTENTON, Esq. Dear Sir—I have traveled for three years for Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons, publishers, New York, and desire to inform you that I have used your incomparable Glenn's Sulphur Soap exclusively for about four years; also have recommended it to very many persons; my constant experience has been that it possesses all the medicinal advantages that you claim for it. All to whom I have recommended it as well as myself, that it deserves its established reputation as the best and most efficacious Sulphur Soap that can be used for all skin cleansing, as well as toilet purposes. Some unprincipled druggists have endeavored to substitute other kinds of Sulphur Soap for Glenn's—saying they were just as good, but having myself tried other kinds, I find NONE so good or so beneficial as the genuine Sulphur Soap, stamped "GLENN'S," this I have observed bears the name of C. N. Crittenton, Proprietor, on the packet.

Yours truly, C. T. Z. DURAND.

—1,000 lbs. of ginseng wanted at Anderson's Bazaar.

—A watermill now and then is relished by the printer men.

—Rev. R. C. Alexander, filed this pulpit here Sunday at 11 o'clock and at night.

—We understand that the potato bugs are going for the potatoes in some parts of the county.

—Rev. G. W. Latham will be at his appointment in Centerville on the 1st Sunday in August.

—The lightning killed two nice heifers for H. J. C. Lindley, of the Point neighborhood, last Friday night.

—Henry Small is receiving new goods every day from New York. The finest and best goods at very low rates.

—The guineas and chickens at Henry Black's are mixing the breed and producing a cross between the two.

—Miss Florence Andrews, of Taylor Coal Mines, was taken sick quite suddenly last Saturday and died Sunday.

—Wanted—a good two-year old black mare male, for which we will pay a reasonable price.

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN & BRO.

—The fourth and last quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church South, for this conference year will be held in Hartford, July 28th and 29th.

—Rev. G. W. Latham, will preach at eleven o'clock A. M. next Sunday at the Millers school house on the road from Hartford to Centerville.

—Do not throw your life away by neglecting a chronic cough which Hays' Honey of Horehound and Tar would cure in a few days.

—We acknowledge our indebtedness to Mr. Harker B. Taylor for a basket of choice apples. We request a drawing on us whenever we can serve you.

—Billy Patterson is now ready and prepared to transform your dirty, druggery loggy into one that looks as nice as a new one and only charges 25 for the job.

—Saturday, July 28th is a day to be remembered for that is the day that the big barbeque comes off at Hartford. Do not forget, but arrange as you can to be on hand and see the fun.

—Hartford moves along as serenely as ever, notwithstanding the annual depredations of the young men taking all some one of our fairest and most accomplished young girls.

—Misses Ida and Ada Carson presented us a bowl of blackberries. They were really luscious and no better was ever gathered by the deft fingers of charming little girls.

—I cannot longer carry packages to and from without pay for it. My charges will be reasonable, but I must have mail. J. S. LEISURE.

—Carrier Journal was boasting over having a four leaf clover, yesterday morning little Misses Maudie and Nora Anderson, brought us six four leaf clovers and one with five leaves. Now if the Carrier Journal will send us one with five leaves, we will try to return the compliment by sending you one with six leaves.

—Mr. D. J. French has contributed to our museum a very rare specimen or relic of the prohibitive race found on his premises near Woodward's old Mill in this county. It is similar to handle for an awl with a hole in center perfectly smooth and round.

—The wife of Ennet Crawley, living below town left him last Thursday saying she was going to over to her mothers to wash. She is a daughter of Mrs. B. F. Morris. She sent Crawley a note that evening saying no more Crawley for let that she would live with him no longer. They had been married about three months.

—We proffer many thanks to our highly esteemed friend, Dr. William B. Armistead, of Owensboro, for favors. The doctor's place of nativity is among us; he is a young man of good morals, high integrity, a good workman, in fact, a genius in a professional way, and is really recommending him to those wishing work in the dental line.

—Anderson's Bazaar will buy 1,000 pounds more of wool to complete the amount required to manufacture the quantity of woolen goods needed for their trade during the coming season. Parties having wool to sell should avail themselves of the price the Bazaar pays for wool before the purchase is complete, as we think 35 cents is better than that paid elsewhere.

—There will be a basket picnic at the Sulphur Springs next Saturday. There will be balloon ascension at one o'clock also at night with basket of fire attached to it also fire works at night and the grove illuminated with Chinese lanterns. A splendid string band from Owensboro will be on hand to make music for the dancers day and night. The dancing hall is one of the best in the county a jury time is guaranteed to all who may attend.

J. F. RICE, & D. MORTON.

—Late the other evening, as we were sitting at our office window, two lovers started out to wander 'neath the starry dome just as twilight drew her sable mantle down and pinned it with a silver star. We heard them discussing those splendid engagement rings constantly kept at Anderson's Bazaar and the custom so firmly established in the mind of every young lady that expects to be a bride, also the merits of those handsome silks, from which the loveliest of frolics can be gotten up.

—A band of burglars visited Whitesville last Wednesday night and went into Hites' store where they blew open a safe and got a little money and also got seven pistols and some other articles out of the store. They broke open the post office and got some registered letters and some postage stamps, went into Shane's grocery and took some things, and also into Mullen's mill, where it is supposed they went first and got tools to break open the other buildings. We have been unable to learn full particulars. They escaped. We heard they served Roseville the same way next night.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

THE BEST TONIC.
Cures Completely Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Malaria, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Braggists and Physicians endorse it.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Dr. J. C. Lindley, of the Point neighborhood, last Friday night.

—Alice Belle, an infant daughter of J. S. Leasure, of Centerville, died on the 7th inst. of cholera infantum.

—We know of no serious sickness, now. One by one they have all rallied. The HERALD wishes all a speedy recovery.

—Mrs. Polly Rowe, of Centerville neighborhood, died at the residence of her son W. I. Rowe, last Wednesday, aged 83 years.

—Our colored population will have a barbeque and all the necessary attachments thereto at Beaver Dam next Saturday, and will wind up with a "festival" at night.

—Samuel Brown, Esq., and Miss Kate Williams, of Central City, eloped last week, and were wedded in the town of Calhoun. May their lives be long and happy.

—J. M. Caschier sold to L. P. Foreman, Monday last, Big Ed Rowe's big horse, Tom, for $120. Mr. Foreman also bought a horse of B. L. Ward and now has the horses advertised for last week.

—Dr. J. E. Pendleton, assisted by Dr. G. R. Sanders, performed a surgical operation on Mrs. W. I. Rowe, near Centerville, last Sunday, by cutting a tumor from her shoulder. Mrs. Rowe is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

—Buck Collins invites you to call and see him at R. C. Hardwick's old stand. He has a complete assortment of groceries, of good quality and will sell them as reasonable as you can expect. His saloon is filled with choice wines and liquors, which he serves up to his customers.

—Mrs. Stevens, of No Creek, missed a turkey gobler a short time since, and supposed that he had been gobbled up by a thief or a "varmint," but last Sunday she found him setting on a nest of eggs. She drove him off, but he went back to his work again determined to set it out if it takes all summer. When he becomes a mother of a large brood of young turkeys we'll report again.

Scientific Poetry.

Doctor Franklin was in science right; He caught Heavens lightning with a kite, And bottled it up to spread his fame; That millions, unborn, might live his name; But since the good doctor's lightning day, The world has been startled many ways.

—The greatest things of recent lore, Are the nargaries at the Exchange Store. Thos. Gilstrap's Exchange Store Emporium, Cromwell, Ky.

The Princeton Collegiate Institute.

Princeton, Ky., aims to furnish the best means for a thorough and liberal education. Besides a thorough course of studies, it has a Literary Society, meeting weekly; a reading-room, supplied with the best newspapers and periodicals of the day; a library of the best standard literature; a system of prizes for the highest scholarship, and a series of lectures by some of the best public speakers. Rev. Dr. E. P. Humphrey, A. A. Willits and R. Christie, Louisville, and Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Lexington, have been engaged to deliver lectures during the next session. Among the prizes awarded at the close of last session was the W. L. Edmunds prize in music—an elegant silver tankard.

Local Option in Fordville.

JULY TERM, 1883.

This day Dr. J. F. Lightfoot and 33 others, legal voters in the Fordville District, tendered to this Court their petition asking that a poll be opened in said district at the ensuing August election for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters in said district upon the question whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold in said voting district, which petition was ordered to be filed, and the said parties having deposited ten dollars to cover the cost of said proceedings, it is ordered that the Sheriff of Ohio county cause to be opened a poll in said voting district on the first Monday in August, 1883, for the purpose aforesaid.

A Copy. [ATTY.] S. W. KIRBY, D. C. For T. J. SMITH, Clerk.

In pursuance to the above order, a poll will be opened at the regular voting place in the Fordville voting district on Monday, the 6th day of August, 1883, for the purpose named in the above order.

D. L. SMITH, Sheriff Ohio County.

Obituary.

Mrs. Mary Rowe was born of German parents in Mullenburg county, Ky., in October, 1800; was one of 11 children, none of whom died under 30 years of age. She was married to Geo. Rowe, deceased, in 1825, and was the mother of five children; the two oldest, George and John, were the two youngest survive to esteem her memory sacred. A mother never enjoyed the love and confidence of her children more than she did that of her two step-sons, Ed and Robert Rowe. She esteemed them as her own children and they were generous and kind to her. The eldest of these remarked to the writer that if she was ever offended at him or he at her he never knew it. Aunt Polly, as she was familiarly called, was a model of honesty and simplicity. She died in peace at the residence of her son, W. I. Rowe, in Ohio county, Ky., July 11th, 1883, at the advanced age of 82 years and 9 months after an illness of six days. Her last words were to inquire of an absent daughter and son-in-law, who were sick and not able to see her in her last illness. In her death her children have lost a fond and affectionate mother, and the community in which she lived has lost a faithful friend. But the history of a good life can not be compressed in so short a notice. Suffice it to say she is gone, while, however, her good name remains to be handed down to her posterity.

G. R. SANDERS.

Entwined Lives.

Miss Maggie King and Prof. J. D. Crow, of Hartford, were married in Rockport, Ind., Wednesday, July 11th, 1883. The bride has winning manners and many accomplishments, which render her one of our most attractive young ladies. While the groom is a young gentleman of upright principles, strict integrity, moral and industrious. He occupied a high position in Hartford College, Professor of Mathematics and Languages. Miss Maggie graduated in June with the highest honors. Since then the mother with tender, loving hands helped to prepare, for some visits as she thought, "the troussau."

When all ready, she was accompanied to Calhoun, McLean county, by her little sisters. After a few days Prof. Crow followed, did not register at the hotel, but next morning sent a card to Miss King for a drive, with "Brooks" as nonpareils. She told her aunt he was an old acquaintance, and with permission from her they started for a drive, and drive they did. Miss King never to return, but Mrs. Crow instead. The wedding is over and the happy parties have gone to their new home at Beech Grove, McLean county, where Prof. Crow takes charge of the school in September, and as Miss Maggie chose this quiet life to one of society and dress, and as they are both worthy the prize each has won and much beloved in the community and no cause for a dissenting voice. We tender our profound congratulations on the happy change recently made. May they realize the full fruition of their fondest hopes, the peaceful happiness of married life.

In Memoriam.

Of Miss Annie B. Rhoades, who departed this life June 21st, 1883. Life is indeed full of separations and disappointments. There is no word in our language around which cluster memories so sad as "good-bye." My heart is now sad; memories of a golden past crowd my weary brain. Dear friend, I leave to dwell upon the happy hours we have spent together. To me, our friendship resembles some tender plant that has been nourished, shedding its fragrance abroad in our hearts, or one of heaven's brightest stars, whose effulgent rays will ever cast a mellow radiance over the dim vista of years. How many homes in our land have not felt the chill presence of death? There is scarce a fireside without its vacant chair, and alas! how many deep graves have been dug in broken hearts by the loss of cherished friends. And thus do we see that life, however beautiful at times, is not without its dark side. But a few weeks ago the grim monster, Death, entered the family of J. B. and Lettie Rhoades and took from them their youngest daughter, Miss Annie B. Rhoades. Annie was about fifteen years of age; she was a good and kind hearted girl and much beloved by every body, but on the 21st day of June she passed away. She was not a member of the church, but made a profession of faith on her death bed.

Dear father, she's gone—gone to that grand and glorious sphere, Where joined are all our broken ties; Not there the wants that mock us here—No falling tears—no weeping eyes.

Yes, dear mother, She's gone to the land where's endless spring.

Where lives in endless bloom, the flowers; In sweet accord with their own song, Who loved these in their land of ours.

Brothers and sisters, may your lives be crowned with sweet and happy experiences, and when the voyage of life is ended, may we meet in the sunny glimes of paradise, where tired feet may press the flowery banks of the crystal river and thirsty souls may slake their thirst at the fountain of living waters. Dear departed, live for thee did sweetly close, and never again its beauty to disclose.

LILLIAN.

A Missouri Letter.

PIERCE CITY, Mo., July 11th, 1883.

With your permission, I will say a few words to my friends in Hartford and the Green River country, through your paper. This place has a population of 3,000 people, is 200 miles south of St. Louis, on the St. L. & S. F. R. R. at the junction of the Vinita branch with this road, and therefore has two railroads. It is a growing place and has increased its population 1,300 in the last five years. A fine farming and stock country lies all around this "Gem City," and business is good throughout the west. We have two large school buildings here worth $20,000 each. One is a Baptist College, the other a public school of seven departments. We have 11 churches and 7 hotels, one bank, but a Loan and Trust Company will soon go into operation. We have the same number of saloons that Hartford has, but we have three times as many people. Money is plentiful and shipping is immense, mostly to Kansas City. I am Superintendent of the Public School here, but my post office address will be Arcola, Mo., till October 1st. Best wishes to the HERALD and the good people of Hartford.

Yours truly,

T. S. COX.

DR. WORTHINGTON'S Cholera & Diarrhoea Medicine.

THE GREAT CHOLERA CRAMP AND DIARRHOEA CURE.

THE CHARLES A. YOUNG COMPANY, Sole Importers.

Speaking.

The Candidates for Representative will address the voters of Ohio county at the following times and places:

Buford, Wednesday, July 18th.

Beda, Thursday, July 19th.

Hartford, Friday, July 20th.

Beaver Dam, Saturday, July 21st.

McHenry, at night.

Equality, Wednesday, July 25th.

Speaking to begin promptly at 1 o'clock P. M. each day.

Ladies Attention.

For every subscriber to the HERALD, for one year secured for us by a lady, either young or old, married or single we will give an order for a sheet of choice music of the large assortment kept by J. W. Ford. Now's your time to get music without money. It will be an easy matter for anybody to get her husband, brother, or sweet heart to subscribe.

Notice to the Teachers of Ohio County.

You are hereby notified that a change has been made in regard to the examination of teachers. We will hold examinations only on the first Friday and Saturday in each month, beginning with July. Positively there will be no departure from this rule, with the exception of the Institute. We will hold an examination immediately after the Institute.

We will have written examinations exclusively. And again let us say to the Teachers who want to save themselves extra trouble, that they need not apply only on the specified days.

FRANK L. FELIX, C. S. C.

L. P. LONEY, A. B. BAIRD, Examiners.

Wool Carding.

Bring on your wool and take your rolls home with you. We card for seven cents per pound where grease is furnished and eight cents where we furnish the grease. Remember our carding season closes September 1st.

JNO R. & WM. PHIPPS, 26th Proprietors Hartford Water Mills.

For Sale.

Four yoke of oxen, a log wagon and all the necessary equipments for saw logging. S. W. Kirby, Hartford, Ky. 27th.

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Cures Where Other Plasters Fail. Even to Relieve. Take no Other or you will be disappointed. Insist on Having ALLCOCK'S.

PHILA., 308, North Third St. February 1st, 1883.

I have been using Allcock's Porous Plaster for a number of years and always with marked benefit. I have been much troubled with muscular rheumatism, but have been treated by five of our best physicians without receiving any relief whatever. I then used Allcock's Plaster on the parts affected, and I can assure you it has almost entirely left me. I can recommend them to every one as the best plaster made. I have tried other kinds but found them worthless.

B. F. GALLAGHER.

Weak Kidneys Cured.

CONTROVERSY, N. H., March 3rd, 1883.

I have been greatly troubled with rheumatism and weak kidneys. I was advised to try Allcock's Porous Plaster (had used two other kinds of so called Porous Plasters, which did me no good), but one of my years has worked like a charm, giving me complete relief, and I have not been troubled with rheumatism and kidney complaint since using them, and I consider myself cured.

EDWARD D. BURNHAM.

For Sale.

An eight-horse power Threshing machine in good condition. Apply to J. Perry Sandford, Hartford, Ky. 28th.

Notice.

I or my agent will be at Sulphur Springs August 6 and 7. Parties owing money may save costs if they will settle then, for if they do not, their notes and accounts will be listed with an officer for collection.

H. F. BEAN.

Teachers' Institute.

The Ohio county Teachers' Institute will convene in College Hall, Hartford, Tuesday, August 14th, at 10 o'clock A. M., and will terminate three days.

PROGRAMME.

Opening Exercises.....Rev. J. S. McDaniel.

Enrollment.

How to Secure Prompt Attendance, R. B. Hays.
How to Secure Prompt Attention in the School room.....R. R. Wedding.
How to teach little children.....W. L. Hawkins.
How to teach Geography, D. M. Hooker.
How to teach U. S. History.....V. D. Fulkerson.
Composition.....Miss Nannie Morton

